Cancellation of the Charité BIH Entrepreneurship Summit 2020

Berlin,
March 9th, 2020

To whom it may concern,

Due to the current situation regarding the Coronavirus (SARS-CoV-2), we are unfortunately forced to cancel this year's Charité BIH Entrepreneurship Summit, May 11 and 12, 2020. The Robert Koch Institute (RKI) has published recommendations for hosting major events, which include comprehensive measures to safeguard health. In the joint consideration of the given risks, the Berlin Institute for Health, the Charité - Universitätsmedizin Berlin and the Stiftung Charité conclude that the complete implementation of these recommendations cannot be fully guaranteed at the venue. The most important argument, however, is that the health of our international audience, the speakers and also our staff are of the highest priority for us.

By taking this step, we also want to contribute to slowing down the spread of the virus and to give research the time it needs to develop solutions to deal with the virus disease.

We hope to welcome you to the next Charité BIH Entrepreneurship Summit, May 10 and 11, 2021.

If you have any organizational questions, please contact Marvin Stolz, stolz@stiftung-charite.de. For questions related to your ticket booking, please contact the Summit's event office at summit@kaiserwetter.de.

With best wishes and kind regards,

Dr. Jörg Appelhans
