

Talking Biography

An evening talk for female scientists

2 June 2015, 8 pm

Berlin Institute of Health, Kapelle-Ufer 2, 10117 Berlin

On this occasion early and intermediate career female scientists can take the opportunity to get into contact with a distinguished female researcher. During this open, informal talk, questions concerning career planning, networking, negotiation procedures and participation in academic committees can be discussed. Prof. Dr. Angelika Eggert will be our guest and will share insights into her career path.

Prof. Dr. Eggert is Director of the Department of Pediatric Oncology and Hematology at Charité Universitätsmedizin. She started her academic career at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia at the University of Pennsylvania. As a postdoctoral fellow she began her research on neuroblastoma, a common solid tumor of childhood. Her research at Charité Universitätsmedizin is conducted in close cooperation with the Charité Comprehensive Cancer Center (CCCC), the German Cancer Consortium in Berlin (DKTK), the Max Delbrück Center for Molecular Medicine (MDC) and the Berlin Institute of Health (BIH).

Please register caren.kunze@bihealth.de

Childcare can be organized upon request.

Entrance 7.45

The event will be held in German, but you are invited to speak English.